1. Coordination of the Period of Stay
   The research fellows and their hosts at KIT are requested to determine the exact period of the research stay and notify the project coordinator accordingly. If possible, the research stay should start within the period specified in the invitation of proposals. If it is impossible to start the research stay within the planned period, please contact the project coordinator for further details.

   In justified cases and after consultation with the project team, the research stay can be divided up into three blocks. The travel allowance will be paid only once.

2. Preparation of the Research Stay
   After the announcement of the nomination results, the research fellows will receive the necessary information from the project coordinator to prepare for their research stay. Please contact the project coordinator as soon as possible to plan the visit, especially when research fellows come from non-European countries or will be accompanied by family members.

   The research fellows themselves are responsible for the observation of and compliance with the legal provisions relating to their stay in Germany or the Schengen area (such as visa or registration requirements). On request, a host agreement (a contract for issuance of a residence permit according to Section 18d of the German Residence Act) can be issued by KIT via Mobility Online (see below), which is necessary to get an entry visa to Germany.

   The International Scholars & Welcome Office (ISCo) advises and supports foreign researchers and their families in administrative matters and also everyday questions pertaining to life in Karlsruhe.    The project coordinator will be your first point of contact in preparing your stay within the framework of the International Excellence Fellowships Program.

6. Networking and Social Events at KIT

A particular focus during your research stay at KIT will lie on promoting community building and on networking with other guest researchers at KIT. The project team of the International Excellence Fellowships will inform you about events (e.g. scientific talks, workshops, networking events) within the International Excellence Fellowships Program and other thematically fitting funding measures or events of KIT. The idea is that your (voluntary) participation in such events will strengthen international networks.

Also, the International Scholars & Welcome Office (IScO) offers a variety of events and social activities which will help you to settle down, make new friends and get to know your new surroundings here in Germany. By signing up for the IScO-Newsletter, you will receive (monthly) information about these events as well as news regarding international cooperation activities, which might be useful during and after your stay at KIT.
