

PROGRAMMING FOR REFUGEES IN KARLSRUHE

Dear Refugees!

We would like to offer you a basic course in the field of computer sciences and Java programming. There are a lot of reasons why you should join: Learn a valuable sought-after new skill, get prepared to work on your own projects, meet new people and make new friends and get to know one of Europe's leading technical universities.

Requirements

You need to be able to speak, write, and read English. Other than that, our only requirement is for you to have fun.

Content

In short lessons, we will provide you basic knowledge in computer science and Java programming. After each lesson, you will gain practical knowledge through exercises.

Certification

After attending all six classes you will receive a certificate that will verify your participation.

Location

We will meet at KIT building 11.40, at the South Entrance (Englestr. 14, GPS: 49°00'35.6" N 8°24'42.4" E).

Dates

Classes are Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. for three weeks. Our next course will start on May 10th.

More Information

www.proref.eu
facebook.com/proref.eu
info@proref.eu

If you have any questions, feel free to contact us via email (info@proref.eu). If you want to join please use the registration form on our website or send us an email. We are looking forward to meet you!

Supported by

Disclaimer: This course is not part of any official academic studies of the KIT, nor does it represent any admission. The KIT only provides the necessary infrastructure. Responsible for the content and the organization of the course are only the mentioned lecturers.